WEDNESDAY MORNING, NOV. 7, 1866.

The Supplement to the New Orleans Massacre.

A piece of information is given in the late dispatches from the East, which serves to illustrate the beauties of Johnsonism more forcibly than anything we have had since the renowned performances at Cleveland and St. Louis. Andrew Johnson interferes to protect the rebel murderers at New Orleans.

It appears that General Grant sometime ago sent orders to General Sheridan to arrest forty-four persons in New Orleans who were known to be the authors and leaders of the murderous riot in that city last July. The person who occupies the Presidential chair, and who has assumed the office of protector of perjured traitors and rebel murderers, countermanded the order. And to make it certain that his rebel proteges, the authors of the late murderous riot, should not be vexed by prosecutions nor suffer punishment for that "little ebullition of feeling" which reddened with blood, and choked with dead bodies, the streets of New Orleans, Johnson appoints one of the riotous Thugs District Attorney, and the whole band of murderers are now as safe as either themselves or their patron and protector could desire. Knowing that these acts of violence at New Orleans were committed in support of his policy, the Executive seems to deem it his duty to shield the perpetrators from the legal consequences of their atrocious crime.

The evidence in regard to this fiendish massacre has been before the country for a considerable time. The report of the Military Commission appointed to investigate the causes of the riot, has lately been published, the material parts of which we present to-day. All the evidence tends irresistibly to establish the fact that the massacre was a work of premeditation, planned and carried through by the Mayor, the police and the returned rebels. The part which the President played just before the massacre, was equivalent to a direct and positive encouragement of the bloody work. And after his policy had borne its legitimate fruit—after the atrocious business was done,—he undertook to hide his own agency in it, and to screen the actors in this most horrible tragedy by suppressing the dispatches of General Sheridan so as to prevent the country from knowing the truth about a matter so damaging to himself and so dangerous to the prospects of the party which he had undertaken to form. But the final act of wickedness was not yet reached. There was still a lower depth. Even this at last is sounded, and we now find the red-handed murderers of New Orleans, the record of whose work forms the blackest page of American history, protected and supported by the strong hand of the Executive power.

It cannot be but that the perpetrator of these abuses and the conniver at these crimes, will yet be brought to an account. His agency in this New Orleans affair is the darkest of that series of acts for which he will have to settle with a loyal people through their representatives in Congress. He seems determined to exhaust to the very last degree the forbearance of the loyal masses. Charles I. did not rush more blindly on destruction than Andrew Johnson appears resolved to do. The policy of Charles' minister, Strafford, which was denominated the Thorough, was not more odious in England than is this policy which Johnson, under the advice of Seward, the Strafford of our time, persists in trying to force on a people that revolt from it. Congress will assemble in December, and it is quite within the range of probabilities that its first act will be to commence proceedings to degrade the present Executive from the great office which he is unworthy to hold.

The Eastern Wheat Market.

On comparing dispatches published in this paper on the 26th ult., with the dispatches published in the San Francisco papers on the previous day, we find a material difference between the two accounts of the New York grain and flour markets. The stock of wheat on hand in New York on the 20th ult., was only 175,000 bushels instead of ten times that amount as the figures sent us had it. At the corresponding time last year the stock amounted to 1,700,000 bushels. The stock of flour, as compared with that of last year, has fallen off in the same proportion. The consequence of this scarcity is, of course, a steady advance in prices. At the date above given wheat was worth in New York about $3 80 per hundred in gold, with a prospect of a further advance. In San Francisco it has advanced until it now stands at $1 95 or $2 00 per hundred pounds. This is equivalent to $1 20 per bushel. The rise of wheat in California will make our own markets firmer, and by the first of January there may be a considerable improvement in prices. With grain ruling so high in New York and Liverpool, California will soon get rid of her surplus, and then she will be ready to take a large part of ours.

The San Francisco Examiner is arguing in favor of arbitrary removals from office by the President. We quote a paragraph:

> The Collector at New York is stealing the public funds; he refuses to collect duties because he views them as unconstitutional, and the President can't remove him. How long would the national credit be worth a cent? How long would our 5-20s be quoted in Europe? Our army is in the field, and the Commander-in-Chief, like a Hooker or a Banks, has shown himself incompetent, and the President cannot remove him until the Congress meets. Would we ever gain a victory? The Cabinet meets, and determines to send an army to one place, and a navy to another. But the Secretary of the Treasury says, "Gentlemen, I cant pay your drafts. I won't give you the money. The war must cease until Congress can be assembled." Is this not ridiculous in argument, however serious in result? Could a Government under such auspices last long enough to make it even a respectable experiment?

To appreciate the above it is only necessary to remember that in 1861 every Democrat in the United States declared that the President's war measures were actually unlawful, and that "the war ought to cease until Congress could assemble." Now, the Examiner says that this is "ridiculous."

Full returns from the Ohio election make the result for the Unionists much better than previously reported. The Sacramento Union's latest dispatch gives the official result as follows:

Smith, Union	276,302
Lefevre, Democrat	213,606
Union majority	62,696

The Union majority last year was 29,936. Net gain of 1866 over 1865, 32,760. Lincoln's majority in 1864 was 59,586. Union gain since 1864, 3,110. Where's the great Johnson party?

In the recent elections, the "my policy" crowd gained one Congressman in Indiana, while the Union party gained two in Pennsylvania and one in West Virginia. Whaley, of West Virginia, was elected as a Union man, but he backed into the "arm-in-arm" association. There are elected now three Radicals to represent that State.

Secretary Meagher of Montana lately challenged the editor of the Montana Post to single combat. The editor sensibly declined to meet the irate Secretary, and continues the war with paper bullets. Duels are out of order since the collapse of the confederacy of the chivalry.

The Montana Gazette of October 20th, mentions the departure, a few days previously, of a large number of men who intend making the trip down the Missouri in mackinaws, and predicts that they will have a rough time from the closing in of winter.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO NOVEMBER 6.

Death of Simeon Draper.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The Post's last edition, contains the death of Simeon Draper. It says he has been ill for some weeks at Winstead, Long Island. On Saturday evening, his physicians gave him up. He grew worse, and last night was attacked by paralysis in his side. A report of his death has just reached us, but is not fully credited.

Gen. Grant's Visit to Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—Gen. Grant's visit to this city is understood to have been in the capacity of a private citizen solicitous of preserving the peace. He made to the Police Commissioners of Baltimore, at the instance of Gov. Swan, the following propositions: First—That each set of municipal officers canvass separate polls to be opened in the several election districts and receive such votes as may be decided to be legal by their judges of election, and have these votes classified and sent to the State Legislature and to Congress. The Police Commissioners did not entertain this as it would be contrary to the election law of the State, and by accepting it they would be guilty of worse malfeasance than any that had been charged against them. They added that it was their purpose to conduct the election in accordance with the law, and the Constitution of the State, and it was not in their power to make an agreement conflicting with the law. The next proposition was that the old commissioners appoint one conservative judge out of three to be appointed at each poll, that they receive the votes of those who are found to be upon the several registers; that two sets of ballot boxes be used, in one of which are to be deposited the votes accepted and in the other the votes rejected. The first part of the proposition was simply in accordance with the pledges made by Alexander before Gov. Swan while the charges against the commissioners were being investigated, and it was made then as a concession by the party in power to preserve the peace. The commissioners had already announced to the morning papers that they would appoint one judge and one clerk in the precinct from the conservative party. There was no objection to the proposition as the remainder of it was covered by the registry law.

The Baltimore Difficulties Arranged.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A special dispatch from Baltimore says the Police Commissioners' difficulty has been arranged by Gen. Grant. The old Commissioners are to appoint one Democratic Judge in each precinct and to see that ballot boxes are provided for the reception of the rejected votes of registered voters. The lower courts are to finally decide on the legality of those rejected. The votes for State officers are to be certified to the State Legislature and the votes for members of Congress will be returned to Congress. The excitement is now overcome.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—The particulars of the seizure of arms in this city are as follows, as near as can be ascertained: Information was received at the Police Commissioners' office that certain parties were engaged in preparing to resist their authority by force of arms, and that certain individuals were then engaged in preparing to distribute arms for such resistance. These parties were in the upper story of Bennett's Auction House, on Charles street. The Commissioners immediately sent a strong force of police thither and took possession of the establishment. After forcing an entrance to the room, the officers found some 15 persons actively engaged in loading a large lot of Belgian rifles, filtered into Minie rifles. One man rushed at Marshal Cathcart with a bayonetted musket and attempted to shoot him. The Marshal threw up the musket and knocked the man down. All the parties were immediately arrested and conveyed to the station house. The arms and munitions, consisting of muskets, powder, rifle balls and pistol balls, were also removed.

Acquittal of a Ship Captain.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—The jury in the case of Capt. James Grant, charged with burning the ship Rough Mechanic under his command, on a voyage from Boston to Hong Kong, returned a verdict to-day of "not guilty." The ship was burned off the coast of South America, April 3d.

The Constitutional Amendment in Georgia.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Nov. 5.—The constitutional amendment was committed to-day in both houses, with instructions to report as soon as possible. The rejection of the amendment is deemed certain.

The Evening before Election in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5, midnight.—The city has been lively with electioneering to-night. All is quiet and no trouble is anticipated.

The Pardon Machine at Work.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Herald's Washington special says that the President has authorized a pardon to be granted to L. Roberts, of Ohio, and Wm. S. Hines, of Louisiana; the former for his participation in the rebellion, under the 10th clause of the fourteenth loyal State proclamation; the latter under the 13th or $20,000 clause of the amnesty proclamation.

Marquis de Montholon.

No indications have been received from France by Marquis de Montholon directing him to proceed to Lisbon, or intimating that he is to be superseded by Count Berthold. Nevertheless he is inclined to give credit to the cable despatch of the 2d. He looks to the arrival of the European mail of that date to either confirm or deny the report.

General Sweeney Reinstated.

The President to-day issued the order for the reinstatement of General Sweeny to his former position in the regular army.

Simeon Draper Still Living.

The Times learns that the announcement of the death of Simeon Draper was premature; that gentleman is seriously ill however.

Safe Return of a Party Reported Killed.

The Tribune's Fort Riley special says a hunting party including Viscount Courtwell, Baron Holstein and Count Montague, who were reported killed or captured, returned in safety yesterday to Fort Riley.

The Progress of the Memphis Trials.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 5.—The trial of superintendent Beaumont and detectives Pratt and Norton, is still progressing. Beaumont's friends are confident of his acquittal, but the evidence is complicated and conflicting. The argument will be concluded to-morrow.

A Steamship Company Enjoined from Selling Stock.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—On Friday last the Atlantic steamship company was enjoined by Judge Brady, of the Court of Common Pleas, from transferring the newly erected capital stock of the corporation, about eight millions of dollars. The original capital was four million, but at a late meeting was doubled, with the understanding, it is alleged, that new stock should not be put into the market for six months, dating from July, 1866. The complaint sets forth that the stock was being disposed of contrary to this agreement, and an injunction was therefore granted.

The Fenian Situation.

The Herald's Toronto special says another raid was expected from Buffalo on Saturday night during the Fenian demonstration on the occasion of the arrival of the captured arms recently regained by order of President Johnson. Mass meetings of the brotherhood were held in Buffalo and Indianapolis on Saturday night, in which resolutions were threatened in case of the execution of Lynch or McMahon. New trials for McMahon and Lynch are to be applied for during this week. The Tribune's special says the tenth regiment just out from England by the steamer Pennsylvania arrived yesterday. Half of the regiment will go immediately to Ottawa. There are now in British America about 15,000 troops of the regular British army, of whom 9,000 are in Canada.

Maximilian Leaves Marshal Bazaineus Regent and Sneaks out of Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The Herald's City of Mexico correspondent says Maximilian has appointed Marshal Bazaine temporary Regent and took his departure for Vera Cruz on the 21st ult., going a round-about way to avoid meeting General Castelneau who was at the same time en route from Vera Cruz. The Marshal, upon hearing of the appointment of Bazaine, immediately resigned. Castelneau arrived at the capital on the 23d and took upon himself the administration of the Government. An Austrian frigate at Vera Cruz was awaiting Max's arrival to depart for Europe. Gen. Castelneau, it is understood, brought orders to Max to turn his Empire over to Bazaine.

Gen. Sherman goes to Mexico.

General Sherman and Colonel Campbell, our Mexican Minister, will sail for Mexico in the steamer Susquehanna in a few days to assume the protectorate over that Republic until the general election for President and Congress can be held.

From South America—A Great Battle.

The following dispatch was received over the Atlantic Cable:

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 10—via London, Nov. 5.—Another battle took place at Fort Curopaite, on the 22d of September. The gunboats engaged the Fort from the river, while the allied storming column attacked the Paraguayan lines in the midst of a shower of grape and musketry, and gloriously captured the first parallels. They failed, however, to take the second, and were compelled to retire after having sustained a loss of 5,000 men and having had several gunboats disabled. General Flores has returned to Montevideo with the rest of the Oriental army. Great excitement prevails. Further operations suspended.

STATE ITEMS.

The Democrat states that wheat is only bringing fifty cents per bushel at Albany, and that different parties have in store for an advance in price, not less than 95,000 bushels.

"In the Circuit Court for Linn County, at the term closing last week, there were not less than eight suits for divorce, six of them brought by wives. Six divorces were granted, one application denied and one continued to the next term. Linn county must be a paradise of "happy families." There were ten cases of criminal prosecution by the State. Wm. Hyde was convicted of selling spirituous liquors contrary to law, and fined $50; Lyttle Howard, convicted of abducting a young girl and fined $200. All the other cases were continued or discharged.

FENIANISM.—Stephens, C. O. I. R., in an address at a Fenian picnic, in Jones' Wood, New York, said:

> "It is my deliberate intention to go to Ireland this year, and let no man be mistaken in this. Some men have said if I were in earnest I would not have made it public; but these are men who either by their treachery or their blunders made it a necessity on me to do so, and if I were a free agent I would not do so. I choose this course only as the least of two evils forced on me, because if I did not make a definite statement, I could not hold the men in Ireland together, they have been so much meddled with, nor the men in this country neither; their complaints have reached me, and it is therefore that I am forced to say that I will undoubtedly be in Ireland this year, for I fully believe, even if I did not go over, they could not be held in over there, and the fight would go on without me. If I thought it would lay of any guilt to delay the action, would do so and risk all my popularity; but I cannot, for they are determined on fighting this year, and I am as fully determined on being with them, come weal or woe. No matter what others say, take my word I will be in Ireland, and then the people will strike a blow for liberty."

REDEEMED REBELS.—Gen. Butler, in his Toledo speech, thus explains what the rebels gained by their parole:

> "Now it is said by some, with a want of logic which I never have been able to understand, that when these men laid down their arms they acquired all the old rights they ever had under the old Government. Who ever heard that, in giving up everything, you have everything given you that you have not? [Laughter.] They surrendered everything, and yet, by that surrender, they got everything, is the argument urged upon us by our opponents."

Specimen Lies.

Having no argument against the Union party, the copperhead editors seem to be individually and collectively under the persuasion that falsehood will do as well or better. That is a style of weapon to which, from the time they were entered by the demons of secession and treason, they have been most accustomed. See the following from Jim O'Meara, late copperhead candidate for State Printer, and now of the Idaho World, as average specimens:

> "The Radicals seem disposed to care, first, for themselves, and next, only for the negro. (1) The last Congress, for instance, voted to each member $4,000 extra pay (2) then $100 bounty per year for all negroes who served during the war (3) and only $50 bounty in all to the white soldiers."

Without noticing the first sentence in the above, there are three distinct falsehoods in the extract, each of which is without the poor excuse of ignorance.

1. The last Congress did not vote to each member, $4,000 extra pay. The sum voted was $2,000.

2. The laws of Congress providing bounties do not make a discrimination in favor of negro soldiers; nor are all negro soldiers entitled to $100 bounty—only those who served three years or had enlisted for three years and were honorably discharged before the expiration of their term of enlistment by reason of the cessation of the war, being so entitled. Those who enlisted for two years and were discharged as above, or who had served two years, are entitled to a bounty of only $50.

3. All white soldiers who served three years during the war, or who had enlisted for three years and were sooner discharged by reason of the cessation of the war, are entitled to a bounty of $100. This bounty was provided by act of Congress, approved July 28, 1866.

A little examination of copperhead "arguments" will in like manner dissipate the force of the whole batch of them.

THE POLICY OF THADDEUS STEVENS.—The New York Tribune says of the avowals in a late speech by Thaddeus Stevens:

> "We expected no less of Mr. Stevens than that he would renew, at the next session, his bold and radical policy of restoration. He does not give up his principles. The territorial status of the South, the right of confiscation, and impartial suffrage, are the elements of his creed; and he declares that, 'popular or unpopular, I shall stand by it till I am relieved of the unprofitable labors of earth.' Pennsylvania has reason to be proud of this man, &c."

That is, secession was a success, the States went out of the Union and ceased to be States. The Union was dissolved sure enough, as South Carolina said it was, in the opinion of Mr. Stevens and his party. Why do they object to be called Disunionists?—Copperhead Paper.

Because they did not want the seceded States to stay out of the Union. Therefore they fought to get them back. Therefore again, they are not disunionists. And therefore again, they who opposed measures to get them back, were and are disunionists.

In Illinois not long ago, a Mrs. Kimball was driving along the road when a swarm of bees alighted on her horse and actually stung the poor animal to death. A man was badly stung in the vain attempt to rescue the horse.

The New York Herald still insists that the late Presidential tour was a deep laid scheme of Seward's to kill off Johnson, and that it succeeded beyond that wily diplomat's most sanguine expectations.

STEKIN EXPLORATIONS.—One party of the Collins Telegraph Explorers started from Victoria on the 15th of March last and ascended the Stekin river with a view to explore a route for the extension of the wires from Naas river to Stekin. The river was frozen until May 1st, and the party walked 160 miles on the ice; at the mouth of the big canyon, above Buck's Bar, they left the river and struck off in a south-easterly direction. A great deal of snow was encountered as late as the 20th June. They travelled 180 miles in the direction of the Naas. The country was very mountainous, and traveling being difficult, provisions gave out, and the party were four days without food, when they fortunately met with a camp of Stick Indians, who fed the explorers and guided them back to Buck's Bar. Subsequently a portion of the party started again, and after undergoing many hardships reached the Naas on the 1st of October. The country is described as a most difficult one and offering many obstacles to the traveler; two other parties have been sent out to explore the same section of country.—Colonist, 31st October.

When President Johnson reached Chicago, he made a short speech in response to one welcoming him to the city. The President came profanably to honor the memory of Douglas, yet in the speech referred to he spoke of himself "I," "me," "my," "myself," etc., forty-four times in as many lines, and never once so much as mentioned the name of Douglas or in any way alluded to his memory.

THE FACT IS, that Messrs. KOHN & FISHEL are constantly receiving and selling, at strictly SAN FRANCISCO PRICES, large assortments of the LATEST and MOST FASHIONABLE styles of Ready Made Clothing. Their store, No. 111 Front street, is filled from cellar to loft with Gents' Clothing, and requiring still more room, they are disposing of their stock of DRY GOODS AT PRICES FAR BELOW COST.

NO CARDS.—When these words are added to a marriage notice, they must not be understood as meaning that the happy couple have not visited the PICTURE GALLERY of ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 Front street, and obtained a dozen of those SPLENDID CARD PICTURES, for which these gentlemen are so justly celebrated. Children should be brought in the forenoon.

BUCHTEL'S PREMIUM GALLERY was represented at the State Fair, as it always has been, and did take the FIRST PREMIUM as usual. His work stands for itself and does not require bombastic puffs in self-written cards, to recommend itself to the public. All kinds of work in the art furnished in the very latest styles.

Not Dissolved.

THE CO-PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN KELLOGG & HORN, at Milwaukie, IS NOT DISSOLVED, as heretofore published by Fisher & Kellogg, nor has there been any fraud committed, unless it be by Kellogg himself. The cause of said notice was that I sold goods to pay certain just debts of the firm for labor, the settlement of which he was opposed to. I hereby caution any one against doing any business with him on our partnership account, until settlement is made between us.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 6, 1866.

CAPT. A. B. JEROME: Sir—Having listened to your graphic description of your adventures among the Indians in the high latitudes, we have concluded to request of you a public recital of them. Knowing your social and public position, we have placed this in the form of a letter, so that nothing appertaining to the showman may prove derogatory to your reputation.

Tax Notice.—In a visit yesterday to the Oregon Iron Works, we were shown among a large number of perfect and well finished pieces of work several portable steam engines. They are well finished throughout and very compact. They are furnished with Blake's equilibrium valve which is certainly a great improvement. These engines vary in size from 10 to 40 horse power, and with driving wheel boiler and works complete weigh 7,000 pounds. A large lot of machinery for a new flouring mill at Grand Ronde valley several tons of which have already been shipped. A new boiler for the Willamette Woolen Mills at Salem. The boiler is furnished with Guilford's patent injector and is 14 feet long by 42 feet shell, with fifty 3½ inch tubes. It is designed for heating water for washing fulling and dying also for operating the manufactory. The company designs erecting a steam hammer for forging purposes. This steam hammer is a direct acting, and is from a design drawn and patented by Mr Bloomfield. The cylinder forms the hammer and is traversing while the piston is fixed. The weight of the hammer is 1000 pounds, acted upon by a force of 1000 pounds. It will be a duplicate on a small scale of one erected at the Niagara Works in Buffalo N. Y. and will do much to persuade one citizens that they can get as good and perfect machinery here as by sending to New York or the East.

Rare Chance.—Among the freight of the Senator to-day are several large cases containing a fine new organ for the M E Church at Salem. The organ when erected will be the finest and largest one in this State. It was ordered early in the spring, and seems in some way to have been delayed, on our Salem friends have been expecting its arrival for some time. Its arrival will create quite a furore at the Capital, and we have no doubt but that it will "draw" good houses. The murmuring of the "sweet" of instrumental music in churches, will be lost by being lowed by the flood of sweet sounds to issue from the new organ.

Lecture.—It will be remembered that Capt. A. B. Jones will deliver at Oro-Fino Hall this evening a lecture upon the British Colonies and the peculiarities of British Columbia. The exploration of this comparatively unknown region by the Telegraph Company will no doubt, develop many interesting facts in regard to its resources and character. Captain Jerome's reminiscences of his journey by land and sea, will be of much interest. Many of our leading citizens have headed up for delivering a lecture upon the subject. The Committee consented, and to night is named. This will in all probability fill the house.

Complimentary Benefit.—A benefit was given to the favorite little Commodienne and vocalist Clara, on last evening.

Although the evening was cold and rainy, the crowd would not be defrauded of the last opportunity of enjoying a good laugh at her comicalities. The house was filled to the very doors, and when Clara appeared upon the stage her appearance and the dress she entered in, were greeted with hearty cheers for Victoria this evening upon the Fiddler. We bespeak for them a good reception from our Victoria friends.

Recorder's Court.—In Recorder's Court before Judge Strahan to-day, the case of John Kelly alias John Doe, charged with larceny in forcibly taking from the person of Mary Bird certain valuables. Examination held and he was committed for trial.

Lecture.—The temperance lecture of Rev C. C. Hall announced for this evening will be postponed to some future day. They were unable to procure the church for the occasion as it is undergoing repairs.

Steamer Brother.—The steamer Hunt brought last night 150 passengers, mostly miners. They will have to await the arrival of the next steamer as all available space is filled on both Montana and Pacific.

Steamer.—The steamer Eveline, Erskine Commander, will sail for Victoria direct, to day at 2 P M. She will receive freight to 9 o'clock yesterday evening, but her sailing has been postponed until to day.

Mrs. Ramsay, late of New York city, is prepared to retouch or color photographs in the highest style of the art. She also proposes to give lessons in drawing or water-color painting.

For Sale.—Messrs Harbaugh & Stilzel advertise to-day valuable property for sale. They are desirous of closing up their partnership business, and offer valuable real estate and personal property.

Mr J E Shepherd, who is an old resident of this city, and who has been engaged in whittling patronage for the steamer Pacific, leaves this morning for San Francisco.

Freshets.—The steamer Shasta brought last night 410 bales woollen goods, 2 cases merchandise, 1 can oil, 268 sks feed, 1,825 qr sks flour, and 180 boxes apples.

Freight.—A large number of cases containing selected wines from the Rancheria, arrived on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt last night.

To Sail.—The steamer Montana, of the Anchor Line, J. K. Kelly commander, will sail for San Francisco direct, at 3 o'clock this evening.

To Sail.—The steamer Pacific, Wm Metzger commander, will sail for San Francisco direct at 2 o'clock P. M.

Installation.—The installation of the officers of Fort Vancouver Lodge I. O. O. F. will take place this evening.

Street Sold.—"I will fight it out on this line" Duncan Brothers say "they will sell everything in their line" such as clothing, beaver suits, etc., of all kinds, during the winter, at the lowest prices.

Change of Business.—We publish in this issue the advertisement of this Institution which will in a few days be opened, at the Hall over Mr Beckel's store on Front street. Professor M. F. Wagner formerly of Eastman's Business College, New York, and late President of the Portland College, San Francisco, assumes the Principalship, and H. DeBruhl, a graduate of Allegheny College, and lately connected as head teacher with the Pacific Business College, has been selected as Secretary of the College. Under the management of these gentlemen the students will be certain of receiving the most thorough instruction for the favorable consideration of the public.

FROM IDAHO.

We clip the following from the Boise Statesman of Oct. 20th:

The Murder of Dixon—Suspicion of Foul Play.

A late number of the Auxiliauche published a letter from Dr. Inskip, which we copied, relating the fatal attack by Indians upon Osgood and Dixon, and the killing of the latter. A writer in the Owyhee Avalanche now publishes a long array of facts all tending to show that the letter of Inskip was written to cover up foul play. In comment upon the latter the editor of the Avalanche says:

When we published Dr Inskip's letter we made no remarks, not feeling convinced of its reliability. A Chico stage driver freely stated that common talk within his hearing along the route would lead men to believe that foul play had been dealt in the death of Dixon. With what light we have on the subject, we submit the letter of "Chicagoan" and the whole matter to the public, by only commending it to the attention of the authorities.

The Shoshone Indians.

Gen. Ballard and Mr. Sterling returned Saturday evening from a short visit to the Bruneaus Fossil, as near as he could learn, about two hundred and fifty of them all. They are entirely friendly, and have provided them selves with about two months' provisions not enough to last them through the winter. These Indians are well disposed but without stock except a few horses. They treated their visitors to the best they had, which consisted of salmon trout cooked on a stick. Presents were exchanged, and friendship toward the whites assured.

Geese Caught and Money Recovered.

A detective came up on the western stage Saturday night with one of the party that robbed U. S. Paymaster Glenn a few weeks ago. We understand that about one hundred and sixty dollars only was recovered with him but it is reported that another one of the gang is already under arrest at Walla Walla with whom thirteen thousand dollars were recovered.

The National Military Asylum, in Milwaukie, Wisconsin, will be located on a tract of about 500 acres. The building will be capable of accommodating from 10 000 to 15,000 and will cost nearly $1,000 000. The asylum will be placed in charge of a disabled officer, and will be for the accommodation of all Union officers and soldiers of the late war. Two other similar institutions are to be established in other localities, under Act of Congress.

A Destructive Flash of Lightning.—During a storm on the 23d of September, a flock of sheep near Marlboro, Prince George County, Maryland, had taken shelter under a tree. The tree was struck by lightning, and twenty two of the animals were killed.

FROM WALLA WALLA

The following items are from the Walla Walla States man of the 2d

New Mines Discovered.

Mr John Justus who has just returned from a general prospecting tour, informs us that a rich mining district has been discovered on the Salmon river near old Fort Lemhi or Lehi as it from Walla Walla about 150 miles. The gold bearing region is represented to be fine worth while, the quartz veins and will require quicksilver in working to advantage. A large number of claims had already been taken up and Mr Justus anticipates that the New Salmon will become a flourishing mining district.

The Wheat Crop.

The wheat crop of the upper country is estimated as follows Walla Walla valley 200 000 bushels Grand Ronde valley 100 000 Powder river, Payette and Boise valleys 100 000 The crops of Umatilla, Colville, Nez Perces country Bitter Root and adjoining valleys will probably reach 100,000—making a total of 400 000 bushels. A Grand Ronde valley farmer thinks that the estimate for that valley is at least 25,000 bushels too low.

The Fort Boise Greenback Robbery.

The man Mullan with half a dozen aliases whose arrest on the suspicion of having been a party to the robbery of Major Glenn at Fort Boise, has already been noticed, was examined before Judge Wyche, on Friday last, when he made a statement of his connection with the robbery. At the time of the robbery Mullan stated that he was confined in the guard house and consequently took no part in the theft. Subsequently he and a comrade both belonging to Company B, 14th Infantry, deserted. They were followed and overtaken, but Mullan being concealed in the boot of the stage, escaped detection. His partner, however was arrested and taken back as a deserter leaving his carpet bag behind him. This bag was taken possession of by Mullan and in it he found many thousand dollars in green backs. He then continued to travel by stage until he reached Miller's Ranch when becoming alarmed at having so much money about him he concluded to bury the greater portion of the stolen funds. During the stoppage of the stage at Miller's Ranch taking advantage of the darkness of the night he walked out some distance from the house and finding a suitable place dug a hole and buried the greenbacks, reserving only about $3 000 to pay traveling expenses. Of the money he retained $1 000 was taken from his person in his cell, $900 was found concealed in the prisoner's water closet and $1 000 he paid to a man named Jimmy Bennett on a promise to aid him in getting out of the country. On this statement Bennett was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $1,200 to answer any charge that may be brought against him. Messrs Jos Hancock and A J Minor are Bennett's securities. There being nothing in the evidence to show that Mullan had committed any crime for which he could be held in Washington Territory, it was determined to send him back to Boise City to be dealt with by the authorities there. Accordingly Sheriff Seitel, accompanied by Capt John H Noble, on Saturday morning last, started up with the prisoner, since which time we have had no further tidings in relation to the great greenback robbery.

Since the above was in type, we learn that the party who went out with the prisoner have recovered $12,000 of the stolen funds.

Dr James C Jackson, of Dansville, New York, writes to the Chicago Journal that he is well acquainted with Andrew Johnson, and the people must prepare for a "terrible time." He says

I know Andrew Johnson as well as any man in this country living out of East Tennessee and I am as certain that, unless the election is overwhelmingly in favor of Congress, he will make a fight for power, as I am that he is stumping it between Washington and Chicago, or between Chicago and Washington, as the case may now be. I never had any other view of the man than that I now have. I so regretted his nomination at Baltimore, that if I had only been a delegate from this State, as I might have been had I consented to go, I should have been opposed to his nomination. He is a bad bold man, drinks hard, and is totally unscrupulous.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph slaps the New York Herald in the face for its officiousness:

"We beseech the sages of the New York Herald to spare the South their adyice. We are amply able to determine for ourselves what is best to be done, and if we needed counsel, the Herald, which is everything by turns and nothing long, would be the very last source to which we would apply."

Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla to purify the blood and purge out the humors, pimples boils and sores which are mere emblems of the rottenness within.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works:

PORTLAND, Oct 16th 1866.

To the Oregon Iron Works

Gentlemen:—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pend d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet per day of ten hours; and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

The New Orleans Riot.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE MILITARY COMMISSION—CRIMINAL COMPLICITY OF THE MAYOR AND POLICE

Following are the essential points in the Report of the Military Commission appointed to investigate the causes of the late riot in New Orleans The entire report is too long for our columns

IMMEDIATE CAUSE OF THE RIOT

Before proceeding further in the discussion of the events of the day of the riots, the Board would consider some of the exciting causes by which, in their opinion the passions of a large portion of the community had become inflamed to the highest point against this so-called Convention, and the negro suffrage party by which it was supported Tehy were, in the opinion of the Board, the tone of the press for some time past, while hardly concealed threats pointed to violence, the published charge of Judge Abell to the Grand Jury, Mayor Monroe's declared intention to employ the police against the Convention, unless prevented by the military, the speeches made at the universal suffrage meeting of Friday night, and exaggerated and incorrect reports thereof published in the papers—all these combined, in the opinion of the Board, to produce a conviction among the large classes, always ready for violence, that this meeting might be considered as in the condition or status of complete outlawry, with no right to protection, and fair game for the pistol and the knife With regard to the meeting on Friday night, there can be no doubt that it exercised a highly exasperating influence on the minds of the opponents of the Convention. Negro suffrage was openly advocated, violent speeches were made in which "rebels" were denounced, and there can be no doubt that a most ill advised appeal was made by one speaker to the negroes to "come in their might" on the next Monday to the meeting of the Convention. In one respect this meeting was certainly incendiary in its effect. It fired into absolute fury the smoldering wrath of the classes alluded to against the Convention party, and, by bringing a procession of negroes to the hall, gave an occasion and pretext for the contemplated and premeditated attack. As an indication of the intensity of feeling thus excited, may be mentioned the remarks of the ladies advocating the immediate killing of the Sanders, Dostie and Henderson, in their houses.

LANGUAGE OF THE SPEAKERS.

In regard to the expressions used by the speakers outside of the hall, the evidence is conflicting Mr Hilton, who listened to the speakers from his balcony on the corner of the block opposite to that of which the Mechanics' Institute is the centre, testifies to the most violent appeals "to fight for their votes, to come armed to the Convention, no cowards wanted, the stones of the streets crying out for the blood of rebels," etc. These expressions transcend even the reports published in the city papers, while on the other hand Mr Shelly, the New York reporter, who was present on the platform, within a few feet of the speakers, hears nothing of the call to the negroes to come armed, and gives a very different description of the speeches.

TO RETURN TO THE NARRATION OF EVENTS.

It seems that, on the Saturday before, an informal meeting of the Mayor, different members of the City Council, the Chief of Police and some of the prominent merchants, was held for the purpose of considering the situation, and deciding on a course of action. To this meeting was invited ex-Gen. E. J Herron, who was asked for his opinion. He replies, that though politically opposed to the party, he would, were he Mayor, allow the Convention to meet and send his police force there for its protection, and let the matter of arrest by the sheriff be referred to Washington as proposed. This opinion meets with favor, except from one person, who thinks that the Convention should be hung, and Gen. Herron leaves with the impression that such course has been decided on—that the meeting will be protected by the police, and no violence occur But at 12 o'clock, Sunday night, the night watchmen are drawn off their beats, and held at the various stations. In the morning the whole uniformed police are so massed and held in readiness, whether by orders or without orders, nearly every man is armed They are not sent to the Convention for its protection as advised by Gen. Herron, on the contrary, they are scrupulously kept from appearing upon the streets, the Mayor, as he states, relying on his proclamation to keep away the whites, and on the troops, which, as he states, Gen. Baird had promised to send, to keep the negroes in order. He fears that the appearance of the police might overawe the Convention.

THE ARMED PROCESSION.

It was during this adjournment that a procession of negroes with a drum and fife, and a United States flag, approached the building. As might have been expected, in marching through the excited crowd that filled the streets, a collision occurred, the procession was impeded, and a shot or two fired—it would seem at the procession, though there is conflicting evidence upon this point. But this disturbance is quickly over, a negro is arrested and taken away. The procession reforms and marches on to the building. On arriving in front, the street is nearly clear, the crowd of negroes previously having been addressed by members of the Convention and advised to disperse. There is, however, a crowd of whites and some police, near the corner of Canal street While the procession is standing there, it is insulted by a white boy, who in return is set upon by the blacks. He is rescued by a police man, who takes him in the direction of Canal street. Bricks are thrown after them, and a shot fired, we bar from the negroes or white crowd, cannot be decided, as the evidence is conflicting. This is the signal for the white crowd, consisting, according to Mr. Todd's evidence, of paroled ex-Confederate soldiers, to open a murderous fire This was returned by such of the negroes—about ten or a dozen—as had revolvers, and by the rest with brickbats. This continues for a few minutes, until the superiority of firearms of the whites, caused several negroes to drop dead or wounded This causes a panic, and the negroes run, some into the building, and some into the doorways in the endeavor to escape or hide. A lull in the firing ensues, and the next thing is the simultaneous advance of the police in three directions upon the building, firing as they advance Negroes in the doorways are shot, and the building surrounded by mob and police, who open fire at the windows. Some of the police testify that the first firing was from the windows; but this evidence the Board considers as utterly overborne by the mass of opposing testimony from all parties. Now some few shots, this number stated all the way from five to thirty (the last estimate made by the police) are returned from the window of the Hall. These shots were fired by those negroes of the procession who had taken refuge in the Hall, some two or three of whom it appeared had pistols. They are, however, immediately ordered away from the windows, and as far as possible, are brought inside of the railing and seated, and the siege of the Hall commences in earnest

MEETING OF THE CONVENTION.

It appears that the Convention met, called the roll, and adjourned for an hour to procure the attendance of absent members. According to the universal testimony, with a single exception no member of the Convention was armed, and they had not only determined to make no opposition to an arrest, but had made all arrangements for procuring their release on habeas corpus

MAYOR MONROE.

The Board are reluctantly compelled to discredit the Mayor, and to believe that he knew that not a soldier had been asked for, and that when he removed his armed police and held them aloof from the building, no barrier remained between the Convention and the negroes and the infuriated citizens, with whose threats he only was not singing, except his paper proclamation" He states, moreover, that he knew that the hatred of the mob toward the Convention and the negroes was shared by his police In this state of affairs, should the negroes assemble in any number, a collision might be considered inevitable, and an attack by the mob upon the Convention as sure to follow Then the police—massed, armed and ready—are let loose upon the scene to "quell the riot." How they did quell it will appear from the evidence.

CHARACTER OF THE MOB

Before describing further operations, the Board would call attention to the evidence concerning the character of the mob acting in support and in concert with the police, and the reason there appears to be to infer that some organization of bands of ex Confederate soldiers came by some pre arranged purpose to the attack. The various badges or distinguishing marks testified to as borne by citizens on that day are First, a crescent and a star; second, a cross cannon badge, known to be that of the Washington Artillery, third, a white handkerchief tied around the neck, and fourth, a blue ribbon in the button hole, though there are several reasons to suppose that the latter had been the mark of supernumeraries or ununiformed police It will be remarked that one witness was himself directed to assume the white handkerchief badge by a friendly policeman who desired to serve him Whether the organization known as "Hays' Brigade Association," which was ordered to be dissolved by General Sheridan, was present as a body, or merely by the common impulse of its members, cannot be ascertained, but of its actual presence there can be but little doubt Many of the police were members, and such expressions as "There goes Hays' Brigade" "D—n you you are fighting Hays' Brigade" "Is all Hays' Brigade up?" If it had been, not one would have escaped" plainly show where the strength of the supporting force of the police lay It is within the knowledge of the Board that one plan of action which was the subject of considerable talk some weeks previous, was for Sheriff Hays if given a warrant against the Convention, to call upon this association as his posse comitatus, and when General Sheridan's order was published dissolving such association the negro paper exulted that Hays' Brigade would not, as threatened, break up the Convention

A PRECONCERTED PROGRAMME

The Board cannot but think that any person examining the evidence must come to the conclusion that such associations were present in pursuance of a prearranged and preconcerted programme Direct testimony on the subject of such preconcert can probably never be obtained, but the weight of sustaining evidence in the Board's opinion, leads irresistably to one conclusion

BADGES.

In connection with the subject of marks and badges, the Board would call attention to the very significant fact, testified to by many witnesses, that the police, in many instances, had reversed their hat bands, and thereby concealed their numbers On this fact the Board consider it necessary to comment.

THE ATTACK.

In respect to the scenes which now took place around the building, and the manner in which the allied forces in the street conducted the siege, the Board cannot undertake to present even a summary of the evidence. They can only say that the work of massacre was pursued with a coward ly ferocity, unsurpassed in the annals of crime Escaping negroes were mercilessly pursued, shot, stabbed and beaten to death by the mob and police Wounded men on the ground, begging for mercy, were savagely despatched by mob police, firemen, and, incredible as it may seem, in two instances, by women, but in two or three honorable and exceptionable cases, white men and members of the Convention were protected by members of the police, both against the mob and against other policemen The Chief of Police, by great exertions, defended in this manner Governor Hahn.

After the attack had commenced, the police appeared to be under no control as such, but acted with the mob Their cheers and waving of hats, as they threw the mangled Dostie, then supposed a corpse, like a dead dog into the cart, sufficiently shows their feeling of unison with their allies It will sufficiently appear from the evidence of the assistant editor of the New Orleans Times, that it was only by announcing his character as such that he saved himself from instant death at the hands of the police A reporter of the same paper saved himself in a similar manner, but narrowly escaped subsequent maltreatment on suspicion of having "worn crape for Lincoln"

RINGING OF FIRE BELLS.

At a little before 1 o'clock a signal of twelve strokes was struck upon the city fire bells The Chief Engineer testifies that he had been warned on the day previous that such would be the signal for the consummation of police in case of a riot The signal is not a fire alarm, as there are but nine fire districts in the city, and for a general alarm the number of strokes is twenty. Never theless two engines turned out and repaired to the scene of the riot. Firemen were seen acting as and with the police, making the arrests as special police, and lending the assistance of their iron wrenches in the congenial occupation of despatching the wounded Whether this was in pursuance of any previous orders, private or otherwise, the Board regard as immaterial. There can be no doubt that the signal was recognized throughout the city as indicating that the attack had commenced, and as a call to arms to all who might desire to participate therein. "Look out for hot work now" is the cry of the streets as the first strokes of the bells resound It is in evidence that in one instance orders were given to stop a saw mill on hearing the signal. It is understood that during Confederate occupation this number of strokes was the alarm signal to the military in case of anticipated attack, and it would almost seem that the alarming appeal had not yet lost its power, since, according to the testimony of one witness, it evoked at least one Confederate officer, in full uniform and side arms, to report for active duty.

INSIDE THE HALL.

The condition of affairs and occurrences in the inside of the building are described by great numbers of those who were present. The witnesses corroborate and support each other on all essential points, the difference being such as must be expected in the accounts given by the actors in scenes of excitement and terror, and which varnation, in fact, strengthen the general case, by showing the absence of any comparison or pre-arrangement of testimony. The important facts are, that when the first fighting in the street had ceased, and the fire of the besiegers was directed at the windows, prominent members of the convention requested and ordered all spectators, white and black, to sit down. This was effected Those who could not find seats seated themselves on the floor, and the doors and windows were ordered to be closed. Before this was effected, it is probable that the return shots, so variously estimated, were fired from the windows This, however, was soon stopped by orders from those of the whites who retained their presence of mind. The police then made their first entrance by breaking open the doors, and, according to almost universal testimony except their own, opened an indiscriminate fire into the room This was instantaneous, and preceded by no demand or call for surrender. When they had emptied their revolvers they were driven out with chairs by the negroes, and an attempt made to barricade the door, but unsuccessfully, as they again repeatedly gained an entrance, and the same occurrences took place—the police emptying their revolvers and again being driven out by the negroes. Rev Mr Horton was shot while imploring a cessation of fire from the police.

THE NEGROES.

During these repeated attacks a few shots were returned by the few negroes of the procession who, as before stated, had revolvers, and two policemen were wounded in the building, though whether by these shots or the careless and excited fire of their own side seems doubtful. The police testify that fire was opened on them first, in every instance, but without considering that any different testimony would have the effect of criminating them selves, and regarding their credibility as equal to that of the other witnesses, yet the mass of opposing testimony is so overwhelming that the Board feel compelled upon this point to reject the police testimony as invalid and worthless The general value of their testimony may be estimated by the fact that, out of a large number examined as witnesses, but three are willing to admit having actually seen fire arms on that day carried or used by the police.

A WHITE FLAG

At some point of time not definitely fixed, during these charges into the hall, a white flag was displayed from one of the windows This does not, however, seem to have had the effect of checking the fire from the outside and, according to the testimony of the wife of O'Connell and another, the police, obtaining access to the room on the promise of protecting the inmates, deliberately opened fire upon the survivors as before The police themselves stated, as above, that on this occasion, as before, they were first fired on from the hall. In nearly all these irruptions into the hall, the police were accompanied by the mob, and a member of the State Legislature, James Phillips, is identified as prominent in the attack

Finally the assailants obtain full possession of the building The negroes in their hiding are brought out and despatched, others perched for safety on cross beams and rafters are picked off like game by well armed shots, the whites taken to the station house with blows and abuse, and at last, just as the advancing bayonets are seen to glisten on the levee, the "riot" is over, for lack of victims

TREATMENT OF THE WOUNDED.

Of the further occurrences of the day of the riot, the Board would respectfully call attention to the brutal treatment and almost inhuman neglect of the wounded and dead prisoners at the various Station houses, before they were, by military orders, removed to the hospitals. The evidence of Lieut Col. Crosby, Major Sheridan and Dr Avery on this point shows as horrible a scene of suffering and neglect as could have been presented on a lost battle-field

They would also call attention to the evidence on the subject of the removal of the attack on negroes, and the shooting of them in their dwellings by both citizens and police, late on the same night, in Victory street

THE PRESENCE OF THE TROOPS

The Board will state it as their firm conviction, that but for the declaration of martial law and the presence of the troops fire and bloodshed would have raged through the night in all negro quarters of the city, and that the lives and property of Unionists and Northern men would have been at the mercy of the mob The conservators of the peace being for the time the instigators of violence, nothing would have remained but in arming for self defense, and a scene might have ensued unparallelled in the history of the age As in the Gordon riots in London, and the more recent draft riots in New York, the affair would have passed beyond the power of the originators, into the hands of that class whose only object would have been plunder and destruction, irrespective of party In the Board's opinion, the property of the Southern merchant, not less than the life of the negro and the Unionist was that night under the protection of the Federal bayonets alone.

THE GRAND JURY.

On the subject of the action of the Grand Jury in the indictment and arrest of the members of this Convention and their subsequent investigation into and report upon the causes of the riot the Board do not feel themselves called upon to express an opinion, but would merely call attention to the audience There seems to say the least, to be a direct opposition in fact, if not in law as to the validity of such action, and the presence upon the panel of one who so far from being a registered voter, was a registered and unpardoned enemy, only twelve months returned would seem to cast some suspicion upon the manner in which the panel was made up But this Board do not consider themselves authorized or called upon to revise the action of the Grand Jury Whether their manner of action was according to law and the substance of their reports supported by facts are questions which the legal profession and the community at large will decide for themselves

ATTITUDE OF MAYOR MONROE

Whether, and to what degree, Mayor Monroe can be regarded as an accomplice in, or knowing to this purpose of attack, will probably, by direct testimony, never appear Whether any definite instructions were given to the police, the Board regard as immaterial He knew their feelings toward the party of negro suffrage to be identified with those of the mob Three-fourths of them were ex Confederate soldiers and at least one of their officers, appointed by himself, a notorious thug, assassin, and former leader of the very men of blood who might be expected to be foremost in the attack Had the police been sent to the Hall in advance, with orders to preserve the peace, they could have had no excuse for the attack on the Convention, on the contrary they must have acted in its defence, and this was the advice of Gen Herron But of the police are kept away until an attack is made and fighting ensues, then precipitated in mass upon the scene, it is easy to foresee what will be their action in quelling the riot The Convention and its supporters have long been held up as outlaws, revolutionists and conspirators against law, and the police would have acted by the order of the Mayor but for the interference of Gen Baird As it is a maxim that a man must be presumed to intend the legitimate consequences of his acts, the Board are reluctantly forced to the conclusion that, although the exertions of Lieut Gov Voorhis and others were successful in causing the issuing of the proclamation, yet that Mayor Monroe knew full well that before the excited passions of the mob, it would be as a barrier of straw to fire that no troops had been asked for, and without the presence of police violence was inevitable When, therefore, he withdrew and massed his armed police, and on the breaking out of the riot, precipitated them upon the scene, the Board are compelled to conclude that he knew what their action would be, and that he intended the inevitable consequences of his own acts

THE IDENTITY OF PARTIES

The Board would call attention to the evidence, which seems in many instances to indicate clearly the identity of parties guilty of murder The impossibility of bringing such criminals to justice under the civil Government, as it now exists, would be, in their opinion, universally acknowledged by this community Reliable evidence would seem to fix the identity of one of the murderers of Capt Loup, the ex United States officer The evidence against the notorious Lucien Adams, though direct is that of negroes. In this connection the Board would respectfully call attention to the small proportion of negro testimony taken, and to the fact that all important points regarded as established rest upon white testimony alone.

MAYOR MONROE'S APPOINTMENTS

Attention is called to the manner in which, since his advent into office, Mayor Monroe made his appointments and changes of the police and his disregard of the recommendation of the Chief His appointment of Lucien Adams as a sergeant is considered by the Chief as outraging the feelings of the community But the Board are compelled to state that, in their opinion, it is the party to which such men as Lucien Adams were leaders that Mayor Monroe owed his re-election, and that he now fears to disobey their dictation

THE CHIEF OF POLICE

In regard to the Chief of Police and his share of the responsibility for the riot it will be remarked that he was but a subordinate carrying out the orders of his superior The Board are inclined to regard him as well disposed in the main, and only regret that he should not have thought it his duty to resign, rather than to aid in executing a programme of which he must have foreseen the result There is but one point on which his testimony may be regarded as invalidated In common with the Mayor and the police generally, he denies the giving of any orders to arm If the evidence of the policeman Dorsey, and the clerk and telegraph operator, Carnaux, is to be credited, such orders were sent by the Mayor through the Chief and subordinates, on Sunday.

CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, the Board will state that it is by no means their opinion that hostility to Northern and Union men so prevails in the community at large, as of itself to endanger their life or property, provided they refrain from claiming freedom of speech concerning subjects on which, like that of slavery before the war, no difference of opinion is tolerated But in regard to the party which elected Mayor Monroe, and which, through him, now in a great measure control the Municipal Government and City Police, this party the Board do consider as most thoroughly imbued with the spirit of hostily alluded to, and so soon as the lapse of sufficient time shall have convinced them that no punishment is to be anticipated for past offences, and that they need be no longer "on their good behavior," then, in the Board's opinion, a period of insecurity for Northern life and property will recommence. The recent success of this party at the polls, is, in the Board's opinion, due, first to the fact that its candidate was peculiarly identified with the Confederate cause, and second, to the unfortunate apathy of the best classes of the community on the subject of municipal elections, which appears to be the curse of large cities, and results in throwing the government thereof into unworthy hands

The Commission have thus endeavored to give, as concisely as possible, the conclusions at which they have been compelled to arrive on the subject of the causes of and responsibility for the recent bloodshed What, if any, action is called for is for the decision of higher authority

To the Officers and Soldiers Oregon Volunteers

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE
SALEM Oct 23 1866

BY RECENT ACTS OF CONGRESS ALL OFFICERS of the Volunteer Service who were in Commission March 3d 1865 and subsequently mustered out after April 9th, 1865 are entitled to three months extra pay (or pay proper)

Enlisted men are entitled to additional bounty in certain early Acts of Congress of July 28th, 1866 and the following rules and regulations together with the form to be used by the War Department are published for the guidance and information of all concerned

RULES AND REGULATIONS FOR THE PAYMENT OF BOUNTIES UNDER THE ACT TO EQUALIZE BOUNTIES, APPROVED JULY 28 1866

WAR DEPARTMENT ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON September 13 1866

1 All applications shall be filed within the period of six months from the 1st day of October 1866 and before any payments are made shall be classified by regiments battalions or old or separate organizations and no application filed after that period shall be settled until after the former shall have been paid

2 No application at all be entertained unless accompanied by the original discharge of the soldier and the affidavit required by the fourteenth section of the Act and the further affidavit that he has not received nor is he entitled to receive from the United States under any laws or regulations prior to the Act of July 28, 1866 more than $100 bounty for any and all military service rendered by him during the late rebellion over and above the amount received

3 All applications for the additional bounty authorized by this Act from surviving soldiers shall be to the form hereafter prescribed and the evidence to identify shall be the same as is now required, and applications from the heirs of deceased soldiers shall be in the form now required by the Treasury Department

4 As soon as the examination of the claims of any regiment, or old or separate organization shall have been properly acted upon the Paymaster General shall take the necessary steps for their prompt payment

5 A register shall be kept in the Paymaster General's office, and also in the office of the Second Auditor of all claims presented under the law, in which the claimants name, residence, regiment etc If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated

6 In the applications for bounty as required by the third of these rules the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant and also that he never served otherwise than as herein stated

7 Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States or called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards etc and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act

8 Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period for their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act

9 The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under this Act, must be proven to have existed at the date of its passage Parents shall receive jointly if both survive, in which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother Non-residence in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes

1 Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration

2 Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3 Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service but not occasioned by wounds received in the line of duty," who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge

4 Those discharged on account of disability existing at the time of their enlistment.

5 The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States

7 The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered, sold, assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress

8. The Act of the 28th of July, 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which those heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and debars certain classes brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by this Act

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law
